EXTENSION DEPARTMENT SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN YEARS ENROLLMENT

University Takes Place Among Seventy-Five State-Supported Institutions

1130 STUDENTS ON LIST

Program Being Pushed on Theories of Popular Education

With the closing of the year's work in the Department of University Extension, Professor Wellington Patrick, gives out the information that increasing interest has been manifested in both extension and correspondence courses and that there has been a marked increase in enrollment over that of the last two years. He says that more high schools in the state have participated this session than last in the Interscholastic High School Tournaments, the finals of which are held at the University, annually.

The Department of University Extension was organized three years ago with Professor Wellington Patrick, director, Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, chairman, Professors L. L. Dantzler, McHenry Rhoads, J. T. C. Noe and Enoch Grehan, committeemen.

The object of this Department is to provide at the smallest possible expense and in the most practicable manner the highest type of education possible.

SU-KY CIRCLE SELECTS SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting of the Su-Ky Circle held Tuesday afternoon, the following new members were taken into the Circle: Ann Hickman, Thomas Ballantine, John Whittaker, Lawrence Beardsley, Thomas Clare, Thomas Gregory and Jack Warren. After voting on these names at three consecutive meetings as required by the constitution, these six men and one girl became members of the Circle. They have been under close observation for some time and have shown by their actions that they are loyal workers in every cause for the good of the University, and worthy to become members of the Su-Ky Circle.

MOVING DAY OBSERVED BY 1922 SENIOR CLASS

Professors "See Themselves as Others See Them," in Chapel Tuesday

The Seniors celebrated what is traditionally known as "Moving Day" in Chapel, Tuesday, this is the day when the seniors pass from the humble student rank and defy the dignity and position of their instructors. This custom is characterized by a general "take off" of several outstanding favorites or at least interesting professors.

At the opening of Chapel exercises, five University notables marched sedately upon the stage and took the honored seats for general inspection. This procession was led by Gus Becker bearing even in personal appearance a surprising likeness to Dr. McVey; followed by Frank Wedekemper, with a righteous expression and noble smile suggested in the person of Dr. Bush; then came Louise McKee, "a la Miss Wherry;" next was Walter Morris, wearing a bald headed wig and a particular kind of glasses, distinctive of Dr. Terril; and Margaret Smith followed the others, wearing a garb and expression, both suggesting the person of Dr. Best.

The Chapel exercises were opened by a few introductory remarks by "Pres. McVey," who read the morning lesson, to the tune of the Twenty-Third Psalm, a sketch of his affections for the lately deceased "evolution" affair, which still lies very near to his heart; after the reading of the lesson he spoke of a serious mistake made by the school officials last year by withholding a very worthy holiday from the students and correcting the mistake by declaring a holiday on next Saturday at the eighth hour. The president then introduced "Dr. Bush," who, with his ever inspiring voice and manner gave a brief talk. This was followed by a side-light from one of Miss Wherry's recitations which was cut short when a delegation of the Faculty Good-Thines Club, composed of "Miss Anderson," Katherine Reed; "Mr. W. S. Hamilton," C. V. Watson; "Miss McLaughlin," Red Hukie, and "Mr. Mikesell" William Blake; and rushed off the stage and caught "Mr. Hamilton's" arm; passed through the chapel and "Miss Wherry" joined them. "Dr. Terril" followed this interruption with one of his logical lectures, introducing to the school at large his great knowledge and really remarkable frivolity. At this time moment "Dr. Holmes," Joe Jordan, rushed in just in time for his lecture and public demonstration of his elastic and

MATINEE TEA CLOSSES SERIES OF DRAMATIC PRODUCTION PROGRAMS

Professor Sax's "The Casting of a Pearl" Given Thursday

SEASON A SUCCESS

Thirteen Entertaining Plays Were Presented

The matinee programs of the season closed Thursday afternoon May 26, with the presentation of "The Casting of a Pearl," a play written by Prof. Carol M. Sax. The cast was composed of Elizabeth Hopkins, Evelyn Kelly, Mary Louise Covington, Wilma Brown, Thelma McIntyre, Joe Wadsworth, W. I. Moore, Jack Warren, Ed Gans, and John Vogel.

The play contrasted the Oriental and western points of view of the philosophy of life. A certain Indian prince, who represents the Oriental attitude of giving, has in his possession a valuable pearl which he tries to give to all types of western people, but they are suspicious of his motives and refuse to take it. At length a Jew, who understands both the Oriental and western attitudes, suggests to the prince that he attempt to sell cheap jewelry in order to appeal to the western people. The test was successful and the jewelry was instantly bought up by the westerners and the

BAUGHMAN IS ELECTED GLEE CLUB PRESIDENT

Organization Completes Notable Season; $5.00 Prize Offered Next Year

At the regular meeting of the Glee Club Tuesday afternoon in White Hall the following men were elected as officers for next year: Earl Baughman, president; Robert Porter, vice president; Robert B. Clem, secretary and business manager; Elbert DeCoursey, advertising agent.

The Glee Club this year under the leadership of President Fendley and Manager Wilson, has achieved a notable success. Although it did not appear on the road in concert as in former years, the members remained loyal and attended rehearsals. The club overcame all difficulties this year and when it assembles at the beginning of next year it intends to do bigger and better things. Although the club is losing some of its best talent this year, it expects to receive new material next year that will make it stronger as an organization than it has even been before.

The new officers have pledged themselves to work for the good of the organization in every way and especially to promote a love for better music on the campus. The club hopes to give short programs in chapel during the year and in this manner to encourage an appreciation of music among students.

Next year a course in sight singing will be offered in connection with the

TOTAL ATTENDANCE AT U. K. THIS YEAR 2701

The attendance at the University gives promise of increasing next year in the same ratio as it has each of the four preceding years. It is predicted that there will be more applicants for enrollment than can possibly be cared for on account of lack of equipment and scarcity of funds with which to employ additional professors.

There are now sixty-five applicants on the waiting list for rooms in the girls' dormitories and this number will be greatly increased during the summer. The attendance this year is 2701, including summer school and model high students.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HAS NOW MEMBERSHIP OF TWELVE HUNDRED

Thirty Clubs Meeting in Various States Instead of Original Two

INTEREST IS GREAT

Seventeen Active Organizations in The State.

Since the inauguration of the first membership drive in December, 1920, by Herbert Graham the newly elected secretary of the Alumni Association of the University, the membership of that organization has increased from two hundred to twelve hundred.

At that time there were two alumni clubs, while at present there are thirty clubs, with several others in the processes of organization. There are thirteen clubs out of the state, which are located at New York City, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Washington, Raleigh, Birmingham, Denver, Cincinnati, Akron, Huntington, Cleveland and Evansville.

Within the state there are clubs in Ashland, Carrollton, Frankfort, Hickman, LaGrange, Lebanon, Mayfield, Louisville, Maysville, Owensboro, Paducah, Pineville, Richmond, Winchester, Bowling Green, and two in Lexington.

FIVE SENIOR CADETS RECEIVE COMMISSIONS

Officers of Battalion Announced in Annual Field Day Exhibition

Five senior members of the advance course of Military Science were presented with commissions of 2nd lieutenant in the R. O. T. C. of the United States army and this in connection with the announcements of the leaders of the battalion for next year was the most important feature of the last military review of the year held upon Stoll Field yesterday afternoon. The men in the graduating class who received commissions were Gerald Griffin, Harold Enlow, William Hutcherson, Edd Gregg, George Baumgarten.

The officers chosen to lead the battalion next year are, Ed. Gans, lieutenant colonel, Dan Baugh, major, J. E. Wilkins, F. A. C. Thomas and William Hillen captains. The announcement of the officers was arranged in an unique manner. The captain sponsor of each company went into the ranks of the company and selected the captain elect, and walked to the front of the company with him.

Company C, which won the prize cup the last field day was also the winner of the cup presented by the University of Kentucky to the best company of the entire year. Scholastic standing, attendance, and disposition of the cadets toward the Military Department feels that they have closed a very successful year with unusually good attendance and interest on the part of the cadet officers and the individual cadets.

A. & S. ALUMNI ARE PLEASED

Letter from Dean Boyd About Progress of Alma Mater Wins Approval

A letter from Dean Paul P. Boyd to the former students and graduates of the College of Arts and Sciences, replete with news and views of the things that are dear to all followers of the Blue and White, has drawn responses from alumni in Illinois, and Florida, New York and Oklahoma, Germany and points in between.

Appreciation of the progress of the University was expressed by these alumni and a willingness to aid where possible in the further advancement of the Alma Mater.

The active interest of alumni is increasing as the several deans of colleges and other University officials establish a closer touch with their former students.

GIVE TO MEMORIAL FUND

Ex-Service Men's Litigation Fees are Turned in by Peal

A contribution of $178.88 has been made to the Memorial Building Fund by the Ex-Service Men's Club of the University. This represents a fund raised by contributions from 225 former service men to be used in winning certain concessions for them under the Act of 1920 by the Kentucky General Assembly. These concessions were made voluntarily by the Board of Trustees of the University. Counsel for the Club advised that measures to obtain back pay be dropped.

The check received from W. Hugh Peal, Trustee, was for the funds collected for this legal procedure. Other officers of the club are H. J. Beam, president; Harry Sullivan, vice president; and Berl Boyd, secretary.

J. Irvine Lyle, '96, and Mrs. Lyle will sail for England on the White Star Liner Majestic on June 17th. Mrs. Lyle, who is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis, will spend several weeks with friends in England. Mr. Lyle is going on business, and will visit Belgium, Germany and France before returning to America sometime in August.

M. Elliott Houston, ex-'97, is a very prosperous banker in Denver, Colorado. President of The Title Guaranty Company. "Slim" looks as young and active as he did the day he left College. A few gray hairs at the side of his head is the biggest change. He looks as though he might play a pretty good end yet.

Major Albert Smith Dabney '01, is Commandant at the University of Pittsburgh. Before going into active service during the World War, Major Dabney was Assistant to the Chair of Medicine and Demonstration of Anatomy, Vanderbilt University. He received his M. D. at Vanderbilt.

Miss Elizabeth R. Cary '16, is teaching history at Margaret Hall, Versailles, Ky. Until last fall she was connected with the North Avenue Presbyterian School, Atlanta, Georgia. Miss Mattie V. Cary '11, is Principal at Margaret Hall.

Everett P. Bleidt '18 is teaching vocational agriculture in the high school at Wingo (Graves Co.) Kentucky. Mrs. Bleidt was formerly Miss Helen Morris, '18.

Miss Laurine Wells '21 and Miss Anna E. Lewis '16, are teaching in the high school at Ashland, Ky.

L. V. Burge '20 is teaching physics in the Holmes High School, Covington, Ky.

David C. Choate '20 is teaching mathematics, language and history in the high school at Florence, Ky.

ALUMNI WIN HONOR

Membership in Sigma Xi Research Society is Prize

Four alumni are members of the chapter of Sigma Xi, national research society, recently installed at the University. This is the second chapter installed in the South, the other having gone in at the University of North Carolina a year ago. The organization has 37 chapters and 15,000 members. Steps were first taken more than a year ago to have the local petitioning group accepted. The Kentucky chapter is in recognition of some very unusual research work done by faculty of the University.

The alumni representatives are Dr. A. M. Peter, George Roberts, H. H. Downing and J. S. McHargue.

BALLOTING IS SLOW

Alumni Clubs will send Delegates to Annual Business Meeting

Approximately 200 ballots in the election of officers of the Alumni Association have been received at the Secretary's office. They will be tabulated within forty-eight hours preceding the annual Business meeting in Chapel, June 13.

Delegates are expected at the business meeting from each of the 30 alumni Clubs. The delegate, presenting his credentials, will be allowed one vote for each three members of his club in good standing.

leaving for a six months trip in California. For several years Mr. Brown was Cashier with Armour and Company in their Chicago office. He was retired about the time the United States entered the World War. He then entered the Auditing Department of the Federal Reserve Bank, at Glen Elgin, Ill., releasing a younger man for service. In April 1921 he removed to the Country Club, Hinsdale, Ill. He will be at home at Hinsdale on his return from California.

"My Kernels have been a bit irregular of late. I hope this can be remedied for I do not like to miss a single issue. Expect me at the Alumni Reunion in June. Mrs. Ross will be with me this year too.

"Robert H. Ford '21, is County Agent of MeLean county and W. H. Rochester '17, is Assistant County Agent.

"George T. Robinson '20, is principal of the High School Miss Elizabeth McGowan '19 and Miss Corinne Martin 'ex, are teaching in the Livermore High School in this County."—D. C. Ross '20, Calhoun, Ky.

"Find check for alumni dues 1922-23. A. C. Stephens, W. W. Haffler and myself, all class of '20, are in Savannah with the Central of Georgia Railway Company, and together most of the time. We are always glad to hear from Kentucky and think the Kernel the best news possible."—G. A. McRoberts, Assistant to Chief Engineer.

"Forwarded my subscription to Memorial Building fund on date of receipt of Mr. Wiley's letter. I am sorry that I am not able to lend any aid during the drive but my work here keeps me tied very close and a subscription was the best that I could do.

"I have recently been promoted to Assistant District Engineer with the Illinois Division of Highways with 1000 miles of pavement program ahead of us and my allotment 70 miles to build before the snow flies this year.

"I am the only U. K. graduate here days I write a letter back. Am sure so the Kentucky Club meets on the this is the most successful year State has ever had and believe it is only the beginning of better times."—L. V. Coleman '14.

BREWER-NICHOLS

"Mrs. Anabel Giltnr" Brewer, of Danville, Ky., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Leigh, to Mr. Walter Barrett Nichols of that city. The marriage will take place sometime during the summer. Miss Brewer is well known in Lexington where she spent two years at the University of Kentucky, and as the pupil of Forest Dabney Carr and later of the College of Music."

Friends in Lexington have received the following announcement this week, "Mr. Andrew Steele Moore Mrs. Annie Baker Hawkins announce their marriage on Tuesday, May the twenty-third Nineteen hundred and Twenty-two Cincinnati, Ohio.

At home after June tenth, 510 W. Third Street, Lexington, Ky. Mrs. Moore is a graduate of the University of Kentucky.

John R. Marsh '16, is now connected with the office of Legare Davis, Publicity Counsel, 305 Candler Building, Atlanta, Ga. His present special line of work is a publicity system for Georgia Tech.

F. H. Bell '19, chemist with the Allen-Bradley Company of Milwaukee, Wis. has removed to 601 Superior Street.

"The Kernel seems unusually interesting to me lately. It may be because my little brother John is a graduate this year. There are only two other alumni here: Andrew Ashby 'ex and Fred Peters '20. Mr. and Mrs. Peters will spend a month at Island and then go to Columbia University for the summer. Mr. Peters will return of Cloverport for the school year. Professor Farquhar delivered a splendid address at high school commencement here last Saturday evening."—(Mrs) Anne Crenshaw Phelps '07, Cloverport, Ky.

"Following out the numerous suggestions contained in the May 19 issue, that the writer and Mrs. Bewley will start this week for a motor trip to Lexington and vicinity and hope to be able to attend the Commencement festivities next month."—Henry T. Bewley '01, 1410 West Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

"I am still in St. Augustine, Florida, as assistant engineer in the M. of W. department of the Florida East Coast Railway, where I have been since graduating in June 1910. R. B. Hunt '01, is mechanical engineer and T. L. Pearre is in the construction department as assistant engineer. I like to receive the Kernel. It is a very interesting and breezy publication, especially the alumni page, as it recalls memories of bygone days. Speaking of bygone days, how's this?—"Down on the depot platform, bathed in the bleak wintry breeze. Shy long of its contents with nothing inside it to freeze, Shorn of its former glory, tapped of its last amber breg Bungless, beerless and friendless stands an empty 8 gal. keg."—B. F. Robinson '10.

"I often think about the members of my class and wonder where they all are and what they are doing. Give my best regards to any of them that may be around and my very best wishes to the Faculty and Students of the University, writes R. W. Tinsley '12.

Mr. Tinsley has been connected with the U. S. Department of Justice since 1917, formerly in Texas and for the last year in Atlanta, Georgia, address P. O. Box 1058. Later he was instructor in modern languages at the University of Mississippi until entering his present employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone Karn report the birth of a son, J. B. Karn, May 25, 1922. Mr. Karn is a graduate of the class of 1912. His wife was formerly Miss Olive Spies. They live at 518

Dickson Ave., Ben Avon, Pittsburgh, Penn.

"Change my address from Shepherdsville to Asphalt, Kentucky. Am laying out foundations for our asphalt plant here—surveys of town sites, various roads, tramways, outcrops of asphalt and land lines. I do not want to miss getting the paper. I enjoy the notes about the alumni especially, as well as activities of the University."—H. B. Pope '05, Civ. Engr., Natural Rock Asphalt Crop'n, Asphalt, Ky.

Herbert Green, '19, writes from Ashland, Ky., where he is practicing law. He says not a word about marriage, wealth of any other news his classmates crave, but does state his intention of visiting the campus soon. Green adds, "I intend to subscribe for the Kernel."

VICTORY CLASS WILL MEET

"This is the year set aside for the reunion of the class of 1919. For the benefit of those not fully informed, we are the "Victory" class, so named because many of our number assisted in the little victory over the Central Powers, and because of the date of our graduation.

"Preliminary plans of the class indicate that we will "re-une" strongly. Postcard announcements heralding the event have gone out from the secretary.—Chas. E. Planck '19"—Free Press, Detroit.

CATS CLOSE BASEBALL SEASON IN GOOD FORM

Kentucky and Georgetown Tie For Intercollegiate Honors

By J. Sterling Towles.

The wildcat nine finished their season with the defeat of the Volunteers of Tennessee in the second of a two game series. It was the sixteenth game that the team had played this season.

The Cats have made an enviable record on their home grounds this season, but have less fortunate on foreign fields. Of the seven games that they have played on Stoll Field they have lost only one, to Michigan. They played nine away from home and won only one of them, from Centre. The games that they played and the results are as follows:

At Lexington:

Kentucky 0; Michigan 8.
Kentucky 10; Mlama 4.
Kentucky 10; Ohio State 6.
Kentucky 10; Centre 1.
Kentucky 8; Georgetown 2.
Kentucky 10; Tennessee 7.
Kentucky 7; Tennessee 4.
Away from Lexington:
Kentucky 10; Centre 9.
Kentucky 10; Cincinnati 18.
Kentucky 12; Cincinnati 14.
Kentucky 7; Vanderbilt 10.
Kentucky 0; Georgia 1.
Kentucky 7; Georgia 10.
Kentucky 0; Mercer 9.
Kentucky 5; Mercer 6.
Kentucky 3; Georgetown 5.

Between Kentucky and Georgetown, intercollegiate honors went 50-50 as the Cats beat the Tigers once and the Tigers beat the Cats once. Between Transylvania and Georgetown the results were the same. But Transylvania beat Centre once and Ky. beat her twice, therefore Kentucky has intercollegiate honors.

Captain Slomer pitched his last game for the Wildcats against University of Tenn. last Thursday afternoon on Stoll Field. He pitched a stellar game and won over the Vols 10-7. Slomer has a batting average of .261 for the season, and is responsible for many of the victories of the Wildcats.

Lawrence "Dutch" Burnham will captain the University baseball nine next year. "Dutch" is a Junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. He won his first "K" in 1919 and another in 1920, but did not play last season. He is a star second baseman and his playing has been a remarkable exhibition of finish in a college player. His record at the bat this season is:

B-16, AB-68, R-14, H-29, Pct-.426.

Burnham failed to hit in but one game this season. He has received several offers from professional and semi-professional clubs, but it seems as if "Dutch" thinks more of a "K" than he does of a salary.

The batting averages of the Wildcats this season are as follows:

	G.	AB.	R.	H.	Pct.
Gregg	1	1	0	1	1.000
Burnham	16	68	14	29	.426
Tinsley	11	24	5	10	.417
Pribble	16	66	16	21	.318
Beam	14	45	6	13	.289
Brown	16	71	16	19	.268
Slomer	9	23	5	6	.261
King	16	68	11	15	.221
Underwood	13	49	11	9	.184
Jones	16	5	8		.178
Sauer	15	57	13	10	.175
Fleahman	8	19	2	3	.158
Pergren	4	13	4	2	.154
Stokes	4	9	1	1	.111
Robertson	3	7	0	0	.000
Miller	1	3	0	0	.000

668 107 142 .25

Thirteen "K"s were awarded to baseball men at a banquet at the Phoenix Hotel held by the Athletic Council, Monday night. The men who received "K"s are Captain Slomer, Captain-elect Burnham, Brown, Pribble, King, Underwood, Sauer, Tinsley, Beam, Jones, Robertson, Fleahman, and Stokes. Charles Graham was awarded a manager's letter and Grant McCormick was elected manager for the 1923 team.

EVOLUTION TEACHING AT U. K. IS DISCUSSED

Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs Rules Out Resolution

At the twenty-eighth meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Hopkinsville last week, a resolution was brought up that the teaching of evolution in the University should be investigated. The discussion of the question ran high for some time but the resolution was ruled out and hearty endorsement of the University of Kentucky and President Frank L. McVey was given in a special resolution for that effect.

The substance of the resolution was as follows:

"Whereas a committee report entitled 'University of Kentucky under division of civil service' has no relation to federation work and,

"Whereas the federation adheres strictly to a nonsectarian and non-partisan policy, and,

"Red" Davidson to Head Track Squad Next Year

L. C. "Red" Davidson, of Jackson, Ky., star shot and discus manipulator of the University track team, was elected captain of the Blue and White cinder squad at a meeting of the varsity athletes yesterday afternoon.

Davidson is a junior in the College of Engineering. He earned his first track letter in 1917, but was taken out of school by the war. In the army he held the rank of captain, and was awarded a Croix de Guerre. He returned to school in 1920 and won another "K", this being his third year as a letter man. He holds the state record in the shot put.

Members of the squad who are not expected to return next year are Estes Snider, James Wilhelm, Warren Clare, C. A. Hollowell, and Berl Boyd. Clare, who for three years has been among the best hurdlers and dash men in the South was captain of the squad for two seasons.

PROF. RHOADS PRAISED BY MT. STERLING PAPER

McHenry Rhoads, head of the Department of Education at the University is being boomed as a prospective candidate for the Democratic nomination as superintendent of public instruction. The Mt. Sterling Advocate recently carried the following editorial concerning Mr. Rhoads, part of which is quoted below:

"Returning educators from the meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association in session last week at Louisville, affirm the prophecy of the Courier-Journal several months ago that McHenry Rhoads would consent to be a candidate for superintendent of public instruction."

"Mr. Rhoads needs no introduction to the people of Kentucky. The mention of advance in Kentucky education immediately presents his name. As head of the department of education at Kentucky University, as former supervisor of high schools of the state and as instructor in education, he is known and loved by his fellow educators from North, South, East and West. The conscientious service that he has rendered to the State of Kentucky cannot be measured in dollars and cents."

"We congratulate the citizens of Kentucky upon the opportunity for saying at the next election, 'I stand for the best in education.'"

JUNE 2, 1922.

THE JOURNEY'S END.

With this, the final issue of The Kernel for the current session, a brief survey of the year's work seems a fitting observation and brings us to the happy realization of rich achievement in all fields of endeavor with a more promising future than it has yet been our fortune to foresee.

The Kernel itself wishes to express frankly that it has fallen far short of its ideal. It has been published under intense difficulties. Students responsible for the output of the paper have had no easy task to perform with the limited time at their disposal, and place of publication a mile from the campus. Hope is held out for a plant on the campus next year however when, in addition to an enlarged Kernel, a quarterly review may be issued to the alumni.

The Kernel wishes to express to former students its appreciation of interest shown, and to acknowledge help from many of them who have not forgotten the struggles of their college paper. With the reorganization of the alumni two years ago, there were fewer than 100 Kernel readers in the association, whereas, 1200 are receiving it regularly today and 1600 other present and former students are kept in touch with the University through its columns.

This has been a crucial year, one of alternate hope and despair along financial lines. But as hope has encouraged, so has disappointment inspired more determined effort, and brought about a stronger bond of unity between students and University. It is with peculiar pride that we consider the dignified attitude our institution has borne toward opposition to legislative measures so necessary for her advancement, and the courage displayed for continuing the fight until the desired end is reached. The future is big with opportunity to fight and to win, and we who pass out through her gates in June will not forget. The seed has been sown. It has taken root; and by and by, the ripened fruit of better understanding shall be garnered.

In summing up, it is pleasant to recall how free from hickering or dissension has been college life during the current year. In athletics, students have been dignified winners and game losers. True sportsmanship has been shown by the various teams. Class standing has been encouraging. Dramatics has taken a noteworthy step forward and all entertainment has been of high type. Student activities are positively on the upgrade and student government has proved its worth. No backward step has been taken; on the contrary, marked advancement is seen everywhere. Social life, that brighter and lighter side of our college days, has been all that could be desired and liberally shared, even with the Legislature by which, at the inst, we were forsaken.

The most pleasing item to be mentioned in the list of gratifying things that have come to us this year is our president's declaration to the Board of Trustees concerning his satisfaction in the work, and his hearty appreciation of the students' attitude, as a whole, toward every situation the University has had to face this session. Let it be said right here that the student body and faculty are with their chief in all things, willing to co-operate in whatsoever he may undertake, and ready to follow him either to victory or defeat. He has the confidence of all under his valiant leadership, each possessing the courage to dare to do without questioning that which he desires done.

The passing year has been to this beloved and revered chief one of hardship, disappointment and sorrow. His hard fought and brilliant battle for means to enlarge and equip more fully the University ended in temporary disappointment at least, but his ardor has not been quenched, nor his fighting spirit daunted. The sorrow that recently fell across his pathway has cast its abiding shadow, likewise over all who have been associated with him and who knew the influence and the inspiration of the noble life that has gone out.

Yet another cloud has drakened the otherwise bright horizon of the closing semester—the passing of one of our seniors, a young woman of charm and talent, a capable student of unfaltering courage. After a few days illness, she was cut down, almost without warning, falling with her face toward the rising sun of a more glorious day.

The Kernel bids farewell to the class of '22 and welcomes its new staff, chosen from undergraduates, to take charge next year. In casting the burden on fresh shoulders, it may be well to say that the exacting task of publishing a college paper in addition to regular school work may sometimes seem hard, but, in the end it is worth all the effort demanded, as is every other worthy undertaking. Much real pleasure and profit go hand in hand with the work. To those passing out goes best wishes for success and the hope that the glamour of that success may not cause any to lose sight of the dear old Alma Mater, or to cease to give of their best for her advancement.

It has not been ascertained definitely, but it is generally supposed that Rudyard Kipling was facing a series of college examination when he wrote that famous stanza, "Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

The good book tells us that the time shall come when the lion shall lie down with the lamb, but it doesn't say when the Sinn Féiners and the Ulsterites are going to reach an agreement.

Ivy tells us that the Romans had fountains of wine to celebrate their triumphs, but it remains for a Western Kentucky town to get a well of moonshine.

LAWRENCE BURNHAM TO LEAD NEXT YEAR'S NINE

The Heavy Hitting "Dutch" is Wildcat Baseball Captain for 1923

Lawrence "Dutch" Burnham of Paducah, Ky., will captain the University baseball team next year. The star second baseman was elected to lead the Wildcats at a meeting of the varsity men held Thursday morning. Graham McCormick was nominated for manager of the squad.

Dutch is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. He won his first K in 1919 and another in 1920, but did not play last season. He is an A. T. C.

The Wildcat captain-elect is one of the greatest ball players that ever wielded a willow in behalf of Kentucky. His play this year has been a sensation in southern college baseball, and his services have been sought by many clubs of professional and semi-pro rank. His record at the bat this season is:

G.-16, AB.-68, R.-14, H.-29, Pct. .426.

Burnham failed to hit in but one game this year, and clouted out several extra base blows with his singles. His fielding has been a remarkable exhibition of finish in a college player. Dutch played standing guard on the basketball squad, and ranked among the best in the South.

Of this year's team Captain Bud Slomer, Ray Sauer, Jerry Beam, Oakley Brown and Glen Tinsley will be missing when Dutch summons his horsehide chasing flock together next spring.

A meeting of the athletic council of the University will be held Monday night, when letters in track and baseball will be awarded.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT SHOWS BIG INCREASE

sible to the citizens of the Commonwealth who are unable to attend educational institutions.

A statutory act passed at a recent session of the Legislature required that by 1926 all teachers in the high schools of the state should have credit for a high school course or its equivalent. This would mean the loss of about 8000 teachers to the State and the Kentucky State Normal and the University have formed the extension departments partly to take care of this problem.

About seventy-five states supported institutions have taken up extension work and it is estimated that there are 100,000 students who are taking this work from the various departments throughout the country. Up to the present date, 1,130 students have been enrolled in the Department here, 500 of which were enrolled this year.

Extension class instruction is a new form of the work which is coming into prominence at the present time. This is accomplished by the University's sending instructors to points in the state to meet various groups interested in university courses and the conducting of the classes in the same way as they are in the campus. Successful classes in this work have been conducted at Paris, Georgetown, Danville, Versailles, Cloverport, and Covington, by the University Department.

Last year the Department of Extension, directed by Professor Patrick, the Department of English, under Professor Dantzler and the Department of Physical Education under Professor Boles organized the Interscholastic High School Tournament for the betterment, the development and furtherance of interest in athletics, debate and oratory in the high schools in the state.

Last year 50 high schools entered the debating contests, 17 entered the track meets, while this year 125 high schools entered the debating and oratory contests and 50 entered the essay contests. Seventeen of the schools sent athletic teams and 9 sent orators to the finals held here, May 11, 12 and 13.

The state was divided into 12 districts this year, 10 of which sent their winning teams to the finals here. There were only 7 districts represented last year.

hygienic physique. Dr. Best gave a very earnest plea for the safety of the morals and Par-mutual betting machine of the city of Lexington. After this inspiring lecture and the program was about to close, "Dr. Healy," Burton Prewitt, appeared with all of his bacterial apparatus and gave a very delightful class lecture.

The entire program was cleverly devised and presented and the seniors were congratulated on the success of their "take offs" and their ability of imitation.

priceless pearl was finally given to a workman representing the western attitude of getting cheaply, who took it home as a plaything for his children. The prince returns to the Orient in disappointment denouncing the cheap gaudiness of the western people.

Dramatic Production Class a Workshop

The Dramatic Production class, composed of more than fifty members, has done commendable work this semester. The main purpose of the class is to train students in the practical art of producing plays. The class was divided for this purpose into groups and a certain week assigned to each group in which it produced a play selected and assigned by Professor Mikesell. Each group had its chairman who was responsible for rehearsals, who worked out the scenic and costume effects, and who was solely responsible for procuring of properties.

The chairman, Professor Mikesell, met the cast on the Friday afternoon preceding the presentation of the play and again in a full dress rehearsal on the Monday afternoon preceding the play. The play was then produced privately before the class at 1:40 on Tuesday and Thursday at which time the director and class entered into a minute criticism of the play. In this way the students were encouraged in so far as it was possible to be their own producers.

Miss Elizabeth Hopkins was tea chairman and by a small assessment levied on each member of the class, tea was served at the close of every matinee to the guests. These teas were happy and cordial and served to make the Little Theatre a social as well as a dramatic institution.

Next year Professor Mikesell plans to have more equipment in scenic, costume and lighting effects, and to concentrate more intensely on the weekly plays. It is planned that the advanced classes in English composition write plays and to have the best ones presented on the stage, thus using the Little Theatre as a workshop.

Plays by U. K. Men Given

Three of the plays presented this season were written by University of Kentucky men. They were "His Place in the Family," by John M. Brown, formerly of the University of Kentucky but now studying at Harvard; "The Mouthpiece of God," by Professor Hincks of the University faculty; and "The Casting of a Pearl" by Professor Sax. These plays were especially well attended and well received.

Plays of the Season.

A list of the plays presented this season, their authors and the cast follows:

"Campbell of Kilgour" by J. A. Ferguson. Cast: Corinne Gowgill, Jeanette Sasher, Joe Wadsworth, John Vogel, and Henry Taylor.

the real vital features of the association. The Kentucky clubs have been instrumental in bringing more students to the University and they have striven to obtain for the University students of the type who used to attend the larger universities outside of the state. The clubs have also sent speakers to high schools to explain the advantages of attending the University of Kentucky. During the recent drive for a University appropriation the clubs worked as a body in behalf of the University, and succeeded in pledging many of the candidates to the legislature to support the University. These they followed up with letters and telegrams throughout the session.

This spring many of the clubs are entertaining the graduating classes of their local high school. The Northern Kentucky Branch of the Cincinnati Alumni Association will give a banquet for the graduates of all high schools in Kenton, Boone, and Campbell counties.

SENIOR GIRLS FORM NEW FARCE SORORITY*Alpha B. A.'s Establish Prestige and Respect Due Seniors

In pursuance of the usual line of development as evidenced by the sixth new local sorority started on the campus, the senior non-fraternity girls of Patterson Hall have organized a local, and, of course, they are "Petitioning the best national."

The members of this new local call themselves the Alpha B. A.'s, interpreted the Alpha Bon Amis. Their coat of arms is the Bon Ami trademark, the chicken coming out of the shell, with the word "hasn't schatched yet." The purpose of the organization is to promote a spirit of friendship and comradeship among the seniors who have wended their weary way across the chicken walk to the chicken coop, Patt Hall. Their motto is, "What's yours is mine and what's mine is my own."

The A. B. A.'s have already asserted their influence and prestige, as many young Patterson Hall callers have found out when they were informed by the seniors who occupy the front steps of Patterson Hall every evening from 6:30 until 7:00 o'clock, singing and serenading, that if their girls were not seniors they might call for them at the side door only. Also during that time no other than an A. B. A. may place her foot upon those front steps.

In the dining room the A. B. A.'s enjoy their supremacy best. Here their tables are grouped together and they sing and give yells. Above the tables there is suspended the Bon Ami coat of arms. On each of the tables, lighted with candles, may be found a miniature coat of arms of this farce sorority. And by no means less important, no underclassman or junior who passes the table may do so without first saluting the A. B. A.'s or leave the dining room without bowing "excuse me."

During the week of examinations the A. B. A.'s will enjoy a camp down on the river.

The Alpha Bon Amis may be spotted on the campus by their sorority pins, the rooster button, the rooster being a symbol of democracy, in the spirit in which A. B. A. was originated, and the yellow background in conformity with the color of the sorority.

Pictures have been secured of the members of the Law College who lost their lives in the World War and they have been placed in a large frame and hung in the Library of the Law College. Those who are in the picture are: R. E. Cullen, R. A. Schaberth, S. H. Smith, J. C. Reynolds, C. B. Helm, D. W. Ramsey, and Professor F. B. Hutchcraft.

TENNIS CLUB HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Four Victories and One Tie Summary of Year's Work

With the hopes of creating interest in tennis at the University, a tennis club was formed early in the spring and the enrollment went very far beyond the expectations of all.

About one hundred students joined the club. The University turned the courts over to the club with the provision that the club keep the courts in condition.

The organization decided to hold an inter-class tournament and plans were made to hold the preliminaries in both the singles and doubles, men and women; and mixed doubles. In the mens doubles the seniors are represented by Little and Adkins, the juniors by Grant and Downing, the sophomores by Tilton and Powell, and the Freshmen by Embry and Beardsley. The seniors and juniors are paired to meet in the finals while the freshmen and sophomores drew the other assignment. The results of the other preliminaries have not been received at the time of going to press.

In addition to the inter-class tournament, the club has supported a tennis team, composed of two doubles teams and three singles men. The team started off with a rush, winning from Georgetown and Wesleyan. The Centre was able to gain a tie in a tournament played on the University courts. May 29 Georgetown was defeated for the second time. The summary of the year reads: four victories one tie, and one more match with Centre to play.

Great credit is due to Roscoe Little, president of the club, Bobbie Bamber, manager of the team, Professor H. C. Downing, and S. A. Boles for the earnest work they have done to make tennis a permanent sport in the University.

$190,000 PLEDGED TO MEMORIAL BUILDING

Another Drive Will Be Launched in September to Cover County Schools.

Of the $300,000 memorial fund, $190,000 has already been subscribed. Schools in fifty counties are still working on the campaign and it is planned to reach all the other schools in October. Many of the county schools had been closed before the inauguration and the enrollment went very far beyond the expectations of all.

Four thousand dollars was subscribed by 425 University students in the recent campus campaign, and will be a campaign, to reach the other students early after the opening of school in September.

The memorial building will take the form of an auditorium and students' building, which will be located on Limestone and Winslow streets behind the walk from Patterson Hall. The building committee, of which Charles N. Manning of Lexington is chairman, is now working on the plans for the erection and it is expected that work will commence before the opening of school in September.

James C. Wilson of Louisville, state chairman of the drive, says that he is pinning his faith to the school children of the state for the raising of the balance of the fund.

Nu Upsilon Tau Tau

It is rumored that another secret fraternity has been organized at the University. This is an honorary academic fraternity among the senior Women, resembling the Phi Beta Kappa in other universities. The purpose of the fraternity is to select those women who are outstanding in University activities and student life as well as upon scholarship. No student who has received a D or E. during the four years is eligible for membership.

A members of the National Board of Nu Upsilon Tau Tau visited the campus this week and the pins will be awarded to the local members sometime during the week. The selection of these students are done entirely upon the merits of personality and leadership.

WILDCAT TRACK TEAM CLOSES SUCCESSFULLY THE SEASON OF 1922

Clare Led Squad to Four Victories out of Four Meets

11 LETTERS AWARDED

Five Letter Men Will Not Return Net Fall

By "Red" Hukie

The 1922 track season of the University of Kentucky has passed into history. It has been written in the chronicles of athletic events of the University, and stamped across the review will be the word "SUCCESS."

Lead by a star of cinder path prowess which has never before been found in Kentucky athletics and which will never be found again, the blue striped tracksters competed in four meets during the season and when the points were added in each of the meets the fleeting Wildcats were found to have scored the major number of points.

The University track team opened its season by sending a few of its members to the annual indoor meet held at Louisville in February. They were successful in that they won the most points of any college team entered, carrying off the intercollegiate relay.

The next meet was with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville on a muddy field. The Wildcats captured 10 firsts and won 80-51 handily. Despite the slow track good time was made by the Blue and White runners.

The University of Cincinnati was the next foe to follow Kentucky to the tap. Coach Buchheit's men won eight firsts. Porter, Kentucky's sterling distance man lowered the University record for the mile and two mile runs.

Due to the calling off of the meet with Vanderbilt University the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet was the last in which the University competed. Four colleges were entered when the race was run the Blue and White was 15 points ahead of its nearest opponent, Centre. Kentucky won six events and placed in all but the pole vault.

Some time ago "Daddy" Boles, who is the father of athletics in the University, promised the track men gold "wingfeet" if they won the state meet. According to the latest reports the emblems are on the way and the men are eagerly awaiting them.

The following track men were awarded letters at the recent meeting of the athletic council: Captain Clare, Porter, Wilhelm, Davidson, Snider, Naantz, Boyd, Dewhurst, Hollowell and Brown and Albert Huble, manager.

At a meeting of the letter men Davidson was chosen to lead the team in 1923. Tom Gregory was elected by the athletic board to guide the managerial destiny of the team.

Five of the letter men receive diplomas at the coming commencement, but the other five will return in the fall to form the nucleus of the 1923 team. Besides these men Coach Buchheit has a number of others who show promise of developing into good tracksters.

LITTLE THEATRE PUTS IN BUSIEST SESSION

Nineteen Plays produced by Mikesell's Dramatic Class
Since February

In reckoning the successes of the scholastic year at the University of Kentucky one must not fail to take cognizance of the progress which the organization known as the Little Theatre has made. The Little Theatre movement originated in the University three years ago under the direction of Professor Mable of the Department of English but its growth has been gradual.

This year under the direction of Prof. W. H. Mikesell who has served as instructor of the Dramatic Production class for two years, nineteen plays have been produced since February. The aim of the Little Theatre is to bring the best type of drama before the public as distinguished from the cheap, gaudy burlesque of commercial theatres. The productions are artistic, educational and possess literary value. It provides a laboratory for experiment in stagecraft and proves itself a community outlet for dramatic talent.

Little Theatre service is voluntary, neither the actors nor the stage men are paid for their work. The productions which have attracted attention of a large number of towns folk who were interested in the drama have included both afternoon and evening performances. Increasing attendance thereupon has attested their growing popularity. A successful plan has been incorporated this year of having student directors in charge of weekly afternoon performances, thereby giving them opportunity to develop as directors. The same principle will be carried out next year with the exception that night performances will be discontinued.

It is interesting to note that of the 250 little theatres in the country the University is fortunate in being one of a very few to own its stage. The expense incurred is very small, all costumes being supplied by the students and only in rare instances rented.

Since its inception, the Little Theatre, has made rapid advances and the success of the year is proof enough that such a movement is destined to grow.
